

Additional Resources

This brochure is intended to be a starting point for resources on Native Americans in the Genealogy Division of the Indiana State Library.

The Reference & Government Services Division, as well as the Indiana Division, hold additional materials on Native Americans. For example, federal publications may provide historical information, as would many Indiana county histories.

Please use the State Library's online catalog to identify additional materials that may assist you in your research. You may also consult with a librarian.

Visit the Indiana State Library

Everyone is welcome to visit the State Library. Staff are available to assist patrons with their research questions. Librarians with expertise in a variety of fields are on hand to provide guidance and information.

Arrange for a class (grade 8 through graduate school), club, department, or organization to visit the Indiana State Library. Staff can provide tours geared toward the needs of the group, or can assist the group in preparing for a research visit.

To arrange a tour or research visit for a group, call 317-232-3734 or e-mail tours@statelib.lib.in.us.
